

SENIORS ASSISTANCE

Heather Martin

ABOUT MY BUSINESS...

- Provides care for seniors so they can stay in their home
- Offer services 24 hours a day, seven days a week
- Professionally trained, caring staff
- Unique services, such as wedding assistance

As the population of mature adults in White Rock/South Surrey continues to grow, so does the need for special assistance allowing seniors to remain independent for as long as possible.

Since opening on the Semiahmoo Peninsula in 2005, Comfort Keepers has provided care to seniors.

This care encompasses all avenues – from assistance with household tasks, such as light housekeeping and meal preparation, personal care such as bathing and grooming, companionship services that include conversation, walks, errands, transportation and assistance with hobbies.

By providing the right mix of care services, Comfort Keepers helps their clients maintain their independence while continuing to stay safely in their homes.

Through their special brand of home care called Interactive Caregiving, caregivers engage with their clients in a wide range of physical, mental and social activities that promote their overall health.

Comfort Keepers also think “outside the box,” offering things like assistance at weddings and other formal events. Special family events can be chaotic or stressful for those involved, especially if they have to look after a senior that is crucial to the event. By using Comfort Keepers services, they can leave all the transportation and care of their loved one to the caregiver, so everyone can enjoy a stressfree event. Another important service they offer is accompanying clients to medical appointments. This service is especially appreciated by family members, who are unable to accompany their loved ones. Comfort Keepers will even take notes to report back to the family afterwards.

Each Comfort Keeper is professionally trained and matched with clients based on personalities and interests – as well as skills and needs – in an effort to develop strong, healthful relationships.

What truly sets them apart from other in-home caregivers, however, is their natural gift for caring for others. They have a heart for in-home caregiving.

Knowing that life doesn't only happen between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Comfort Keepers offer services 24/7 and someone can be reached via phone at all times. “Though the workload is at times exhausting and overwhelming, at the end of the day, the team at Comfort Keepers always feels satisfied that they have been able to make life easier for one senior or family member that day,” says Heather Martin.
